LEBANON

the 1961

lebanon log

presents a portrayal in words and pictures of a year of dimension at

mt. lebanon high school

pittsburgh, pennsylvania

these are the years of preparation, challenging our imagination,

broadening our comprehension, supplying our experience.

tomorrow is the realm of application, testing the validity of our perception,

the depth of our reasoning,

the extent of our influence, bringing the fruition of our hopes and horizons.

tomorrow we shall more fully appreciate the complete education we received at mt. lebanon-- from the lesson in skill in an evenly-matched basketball game to the lesson in concentration in a quiet corner of the library.

these preparatory years are vital to the success of tomorrow, for knowledge is the dimension of the future.

Administrators Lay Educational Groundwork

Dr. Ralph Horsman, Superintendent of Public Schools, was responsible for managing the nine schools in the Mt. Lebanon school system and correlating their programs of study.

Dr. Joseph Keifer, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, aided in the duties of supervising the Mt. Lebanon Public Schools.

The school board established and governed the educational policies of the Mt. Lebanon schools. The members were Miss Miriam Headley, Mr. William C. Berg, Jr., Mrs. Donald Cameron, Mr. Robert F. Dyson, Mr. Samuel A. Schreiner, Mr. James L. Daniell, Mr. Otis C. Hogsett, and Mr. James R. Orr.

The duties of Mr. Ralph W. McDermot, our vice-principal, consist of organizing, adjusting, and readjusting our schedules, placing new students and compiling class rank.

Outlining student policies, co-ordinating the administration and faculty, advising school committees — all these duties fall under the direction of Dr. Nelson Mills. As principal at Mt. Lebanon, he is responsible for maintaining the fine reputation of our school.

Mrs. Delores B. Vroble and Mrs. Jane H. Booth, as clerical secretaries, are responsible for the efficient operation of Dr. Mills' office.

Director of instruction for the Mt. Lebanon schools, Dr. Floy Penn contributed to the success of the school year by supervising our testing program and coordinating our curriculum.

The World Series season resulted in more work for Mrs. Geraldine H. Morgan, who, nevertheless, recorded students' absences, helped to maintain student discipline, and compiled attendance records for the school year.

As the activities directors at Mt. Lebanon, Mrs. Margaret Cargill and Miss Janice Mellinger supervised the entire activities department of our high school and headed Student Court and Student Congress.

Our guidance directors offered us competent assistance in choosing a college, a major field of study, or a vocation. Department head, Mrs. Ferne W. Horne, supervised the work of Miss Mildred Frobouck, senior counselor; Mr. Bernard J. Kobosky, junior counselor and adviser on the armed services; and Mr. C. William Holman, our director of sophomores.

Miss Ruth Gordon, our home-school visitor, Miss Marjorie A. Scanlon, our speech therapist, and Mr. D. Moore, who was in charge of psychological testing, helped students with their individual problems.

In their capacities as administrative secretaries, Miss Ruth Wass, Mrs. Leneta E. Daniels, and Mrs. Helen W. Irwin receive and compile innumerable forms for grades, attendance, and college transcripts.

Miss Fern L. High and Miss Patricia Croke directed the medical squad, gave physical examinations, nursed minor ailments, and treated the yearly epidemic of World Series fever.

Self-Expression Requires Basic Skills

The ability to communicate with clarity and exactness is a basic requirement for human co-operation and understanding. The science of our language includes many facets, all of which are taught here at Mt. Lebanon. As English students, we learn the structure of our language from its smallest building blocks—parts of speech and sentences—to its great masterpieces of writing. As well as studying how to handle our language with competence and efficiency, we learn how to extend our appreciation of its literary works. Our English department provides us with an adequate background for the daily functions of reading, writing, listening, and speaking.

The peoples of the world can live together in peace and mutual respect only when they understand and appreciate each other. Our foreign language instructors stress the idea of cultural understanding along with the mastery of verb tenses and case usage. The four different language groupings believe that, by acquainting ourselves with the customs of Rome, France, Spain, and Germany, we can help to promote the world understanding which is so essential today. Since speaking and writing are the basis of civilization, we learn of a new way of life when we study a foreign language.

Understanding social studies is more than knowing the dates of the reign of Henry VIII or memorizing the battles of the American Civil War. Here at Mt. Lebanon, instead of recording facts only, our teachers try to interest us in the ideas which have shaped the civilization of mankind. They teach us to question causes and results, study cultures and ideals, and apply the lessons of the past to the problems of today. In this way only, can we break down the bridges between the peoples of the world.

In this age of space exploration, mathematics is the key which unlocks the complexities of the universe. Reasoning through a complicated problem in algebra or geometry gives us a basis for the clear thinking which we must master in order to solve the problems that arise in other phases of our everyday lives. Knowing that math stands as the foundation of good logic and that its possible uses are unlimited, each mathematics instructor tries diligently to instill in us these fundamental tools.

Mr. Ruth points out the value of exact calculations.

"Why?" This simple word is so useful and prevalent in our daily lives. Why does electrolysis separate water molecules into hydrogen and oxygen atoms? Why do the Laws of Mendel operate in heredity? Why does a bell clapper swing back and forth in only one direction? The scientific answers to these questions may be found in a student's experiment, in the writings of an eminent scientist, in a teacher's lecture, or in everyday observations. The science department guides and directs us, the student body, in answering the "why's" of many of the world's mysteries.

We Develop Tomorrow's Practical Skills

"This beats counting on your fingers."

The internal combustion engine, differential gears, and traffic laws are complex subjects; but, after a course in driver training, we understand not only the meaning of these topics, but their applications as well. Success in the business world depends on that same alertness of mind which is necessary in driving a car. Business and commercial students master single and double entry bookkeeping, profit and loss statements, typing, and shorthand —skills which enable them to enter the business world confidently. These practical subjects are among those that enrich Mt. Lebanon's elective courses.

We Express Ourselves Through Art

Many of us have taken advantage of the variety of elective subjects which Mt. Lebanon has to offer. We have learned to develop our talents and appreciate aesthetic values by creating a design in mosaic, building a table, or playing a flute at half-time in the band. We have acquired individuality through originality; we have learned to admire the art and music created by others; and we have gained skills and qualities which will make ours a richer and fuller life.

Health and gym teachers are the members of a team that is responsible for helping us to improve our physical and emotional health. They give us common-sense rules of hygiene which we can follow in order to promote our physical and mental well-being. In gym class, we practice maintaining healthy bodies by participating in basketball, Indian club drills, swimming, and tennis. At the same time, these activities encourage sportsmanship and cooperation with others. Through these classes, we realize that good health can be our most prized possession; but we must work to gain it.

Next year they'll challenge the varsity.

And We Will Not Forget . . .

. . . who joined and led in activities, helped to plan school dances, cheered their team at pep rallies and on the field, applauded the musicals and plays, and laughed with their friends at senior parties.

. . . who yelled cheers and sang spirited class songs.

. . . who boldly identified Mt. Lebanon with their class project, the high school sign.

. . . who studied diligently to uphold the scholastic quality of Mt. Lebanon students.

. . . who anticipated their graduation with a feeling of pride and fulfillment, realizing that it is the door to the future.

. . . who reached the final level of their high school education with flying colors and are ready to take their places in society as young adults.

"Ever Our Praises Shall Ring"

In their third year at Mt. Lebanon, the juniors strove to retain the high level that they had already achieved. Benefiting from the more enriched curriculum available to them, they went ahead to undertake added responsibilities. They planned for the future by utilizing their skills and participating in extra-curricular activities and plays. The many new friendships they made added depth to their personalities. By attempting to further both its athletic and scholastic standing, the junior class did its share of contributing to the progress of the school. Now the class of '62 is eagerly contemplating its senior year, when it hopes to bring even greater recognition to Mt. Lebanon High.

Sophomores Achieve Foundation For Future

Sturdy and deep are the foundations which the sophomore class has laid in its first year at Mt. Lebanon High School. Eager to prove their versatile talents, these students have taken an active part in school life, learning the satisfaction of service through Christmas projects, filling the gym with their enthusiastic cheers at pep rallies, and looking forward to the approach of a dance. Some filled the vacancies on our championship sports teams. Others added their talents to dramatic and musical programs. But, most important, the members of the class of '63 have emerged scholastically —realizing that a verb conjugation or a history term paper is an important block on which to build their future.

Students head back to class after an enjoyable hour in the auditorium.

Self-Government Taught Responsibility

The eternal favorite — school policy.

Through the meetings and functions of the Student Congress, each student of Mt. Lebanon High School has gained experience in the fundamentals of democratic government. For the first time, the Student Congress officers of the fall semester of 1960 and the spring semester of 1961 were nominated by the whole senior class instead of a nominating committee. The enthusiastic campaigning for the student council nominees was coincidental with the national presidential campaign. Campaign committees created clever and imaginative slogans and posters in support of their candidates, while the candidates themselves composed thoughtful and sincere speeches highlighted with wit, to sway the opinions of 1700 voters.

Student Congress continued to represent the opinion of the student body during its weekly sessions every Tuesday morning. Through the homeroom presidents who attended each meeting, the ideas and opinions of each student could be voiced. Suggestions ranging from the sanding of the cafeteria stools to re-entry into the American Field Service exchange program were discussed by competent officers. Through Student Congress, each one of us felt the opportunity and the responsibility to help our student government even in the smallest capacity.

Elected to lead Student Congress for the second semester were Alan Mandel, Vice-President; Suzy Dittmar, Secretary; and Jack Meyer, President.

Respectfully submitted . . .

Selling school sweatshirts was one of the functions of the Finance Committee of Student Congress. Members were Dick Wilson, Lynne Ricca, Alan Mandel and Jim Offutt.

Students receiving their Activities Guard before the end of the first semester were Sandy Kauper, Suzy Dittmar, Robby Davison, and Alan Mandel.

Lebanon Log Records Year's Events

This year's editorial assistants, Don Delisi, Sue Wilson, adviser Miss Hughes, Candy Harness, Harriet Good, and Babs Seamans, worked at different positions to prepare themselves for next year's editorial positions.

When we receive our Log, the story of the personalities and events which constituted the 1960-1961 school year at Mt. Lebanon, few of us realize the long hours of effort that have made this book possible. Each evening after school, student writers, photographers, staffs, and editors gather in the bustling, seven by twelve Log office to select pictures, plan schedules, hold conferences, and organize the book. Weary fingers type copy, sticky fingers glue pictures, and waving hands clutch write-ups. Pleading voices beg for final payments, bickering voices argue over assignments, and authoritative calls direct staff assistants. The result of this hard work is a record of our teachers and classmates, of concerts and plays, and of fellowship at football and basketball games—a record to which we can refer in years to come.

Discovering a unique position in their familiar quarters, the Log editors, Bonnie Ballantyne, Nancy Nuernberg, Kathy Schwarz, Patti Miller, Alan Mandel, and Sharon Shuttleworth, are sitting pretty in the Publications Office.

The sports staff, composed of Geoff Heron, Jim Offutt, John Crissman, Susie Langenkamp, Laurie Weisbrod, and John Hill, gave complete coverage to the school's eleven interscholastic sports.

Our staff of photographers, Jeff Hubrig, Bill Hecht, and Bill Wicker, brought us a pictorial record of sports and social events.

Planning and executing the classes section of the Log was the responsibility of the classes staff, composed of Pam Francis, Dana Smith, Jill Hagan, Susy Smith, and Diane Browarsky.

The literary staff, David Guy, Ruth Summers, Nancy Degnan, Sandy Rodgers, and Mary Jane Edwards, wrote headlines, paragraphs, and captions for the yearbook.

The business staff directed the sales campaign, handled finances, and filed receipts. Members are Anne Goulding, Jim Kaley, Phyllis Yeager, and Cathy Anderson.

Lantern Celebrates Thirtieth Birthday

Strains of "Happy Birthday" flavored the 1960-1961 Lebanon Lantern sales campaign. For thirty years, this newspaper has been the mouthpiece of Mt. Lebanon High School. While Lanterns of the past have won college-sponsored awards, this year's Lantern reached a new height in its news coverage in words and pictures.

Through the nine annual issues of the Lantern and its supplement, The Devilette, we have learned about all the activities in which our 1950 students participated, we have re-lived the victories of the football team, and we have kept pace with the latest rumors.

Thirty years of background experience helped to make the Lantern once again worthy of the praise expressed by students and faculty.

The task of supervising layouts, features, and deadlines fell to the editors of the 1960-61 Lantern, Sheron Rock, Sue McCoy, Dave Manoogian, Sandy Kauper, Ann Wharton, Susy Smith, Stewart Beach, Robby Davison, Geoff Heron, and Bill Lane.

Pam Francis, Marty Lewis, Babs Seamans, and Nancy Jo Cotton, in charge of the Devilette, produced an interesting and original supplement to each Lantern issue.

Press Conference.

Bob Gallup mimeographed the Devilette and the Lantern polls.

The business staff, composed of Diane Kline, Mary Ann Ivanciw, adviser Miss McLaughlin, Jim Moran, Wendy Turner, and Diane Daugherty, was responsible for the financial and clerical aspects of the paper.

It's Another Hit

"Here's a pitch for the Mounty." "The Mounty's batting a thousand."

With a clever and well-handled sales campaign based on the world champion, Mounty-reading Pirates, the Mounty, Mt. Lebanon's official literary magazine, began another successful year. It continued its role in school life by providing both students and faculty with delightful reading.

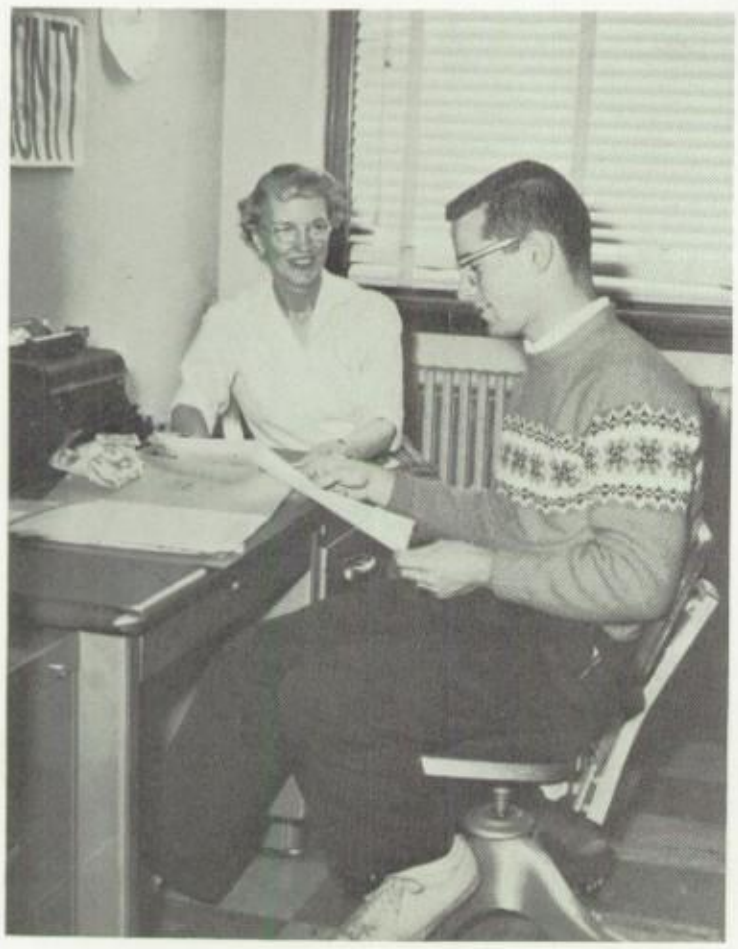
In its tiny cubicle in the Publications Office, the hard-working staff edited the prose and poetry selections submitted by the students and compiled a magazine having equal appeal to the light-hearted and the serious-minded. Other branches of the staff provided appropriate illustrations or managed business affairs.

During the 1960-61 school year, the student body—and the Pittsburgh Pirates—agreed that the Mounty was in literary first place.

Alice Schade, Jay Livingston, and Bobbie Benz, Mounty editors, selected and edited student manuscripts and supervised the other departments of the magazine.

Culture?

Mounty artists, Marsha Wood, Carol Harter, Nella Martin, Marikate O'Conner, Betsey Corwin, and Pat Rohrs, provided each magazine selection with an appropriate illustration.



Chuck Garland, business manager, worked with Miss Elliott to record finances, sales, and distribution and keep the magazine running smoothly.

Typing stories and poetry for publication was the duty of the Mounty typists. They were Susie Hoose, Julie Kascal, Valarie Stoodie, Nancy Bodnar, and Kathy Leland.

The Mt. Lebanon lineup.

Whether on stage or in the stadium, Mt. Lebanon's large and famed concert band lived up to its reputation each time it performed. Having practiced tirelessly for three weeks at the end of the summer, the band was prepared to play for our 1960 football debut the first week of school. With spirit and skill, it highlighted each game with syncopated jazz, lively marches, and our Alma Mater. Carefully practiced formations, including the traditional "M", were executed precisely.

Traveling to Allegheny College in October, the band performed its specialty, welcoming our two new states with "Winter Wonderland" and "Hawaiian War Chant" and was received with enthusiasm. We are confident of its excellence, for we saw and heard this unique and entertaining show in our own stadium.

Well-balanced programs of band classics and popular marches were shared with the student body in the band assembly in the fall and with the community during its annual spring concert. A combination of exceptional talent among the members of the band, plus the ability and leadership of Mr. Prutzman, has added another successful year to our band's admirable record.

Student conductor, Jack Meyer, leads the band during a practice session.

The Rockettes salute Miss Mt. Lebanon.

This year's majorettes, Nancy Bock, Christy Herron, Jane Flemm, Nancy Brunk and Sue Norseen thrilled spectators with their baton skills.

Co-Operation Provides Harmony

With the tightening of violin strings, the hasty rustling of various scores, and finally the downbeat of Mr. Yagello's baton, the Mt. Lebanon High School Orchestra began another musical year.

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, orchestra members filled the ground-floor hall with music during the sixth period. Both as a group and as individuals, the members of this group performed expertly. We, the student body, applauded their skillful accompaniment of the Christmas Program and their solo display of talent in the Orchestra Assembly. Local residents praised the performances of our high school orchestra as it entertained Mt. Lebanon at the Activities Play, the Formal Concert, and the Spring Concert.

From both private practices and public performances, the members of the orchestra have gained much: They have learned that co-operation creates harmony. They have had the opportunity to enrich their lives with the study of all types of music from Beethoven to George Gershwin. They have felt pride in providing enjoyment for so many listeners.

The Mt. Lebanon High School Orchestra symbolized that aim of education which seeks to gain more than just more facts.

The violinists and violists in the orchestra were: Row 1: Debbie Evans, concertmistress, Marlene Singer, Anne Goulding, Kathy Miller. Row 2: Rick Peters, Rita Fisher, Diane Kulik, Robin Kanarek. Row 3: Charlotte Hahn, Leslie Wilmot, Bill Tournay, John Leonard. Row 4: Richard Ruben, Jean Welinsky, Dick Schwartz, Carol Peterson. Row 5: Lynda Pfendler, Carol Phinney, Alice Schade, Debbie White.

Choral Groups Create Musical Moods

The three choral groups, Girls' Ensemble, Boys' Glee Club, and Mixed Chorus, provided great opportunity for Mt. Lebanon High School students of widely-ranging musical interest and singing talent. Warming up before each class with scales and arpeggios, these groups rehearsed choral programs and musical productions to perfection. With sincerity and devotion, the combined chorus helped lift us into a reverent mood with their songs of praise and worship during the Thanksgiving program. Robots, friendly dragons, and dollies with "pains in their sawdust" enriched the holiday season with fun and joy as the choral department staged a delightful yet meaningful Christmas show, which concluded magnificently with Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." Spring was officially here as students in the halls hummed strains of "O, What a Beautiful Morning" and "People Will Say We're In Love." Such were the pleasant reminders of the spring choral production, the Broadway hit musical Oklahoma, which was put on with a professional flair and accepted by students and community with enthusiasm. The entire season was met effectively with the experienced hand of Miss May K. Sneary as she directed and coached each choral group with skill and concern.

After competitive try-outs, students with exceptional singing talent were selected for the special singing groups: Triple Trio, Boys' Quartet, and Devotional Choir. The Trio, which is well-known in the community, and the Quartet, which is new this year, kept busy schedules, with engagements at church meetings, clubs, and various organizations. Devotional Choir, familiar to us all, added to the spiritual mood of the devotional programs every Thursday morning. The well-rounded and extensive choral department, creating and stimulating musical interest in the student body, has continued to be a credit and an asset to our school.

The choral voices of Mt. Lebanon High School combine for song.

Seated around the accompanist Roy Abernathy are the members of the Mt. Lebanon Boys Quartet. They are Kip Weldon, Howard Smith, Skip McGrew, and Detmar Straub.

Members of the Triple Trio are Jane Ferguson, Flicka Rahn, Jo Button, Nancy Degnan, Linda Brodmerkel, Gini Burrows, Nancy Detweiler, Janet Albert, Claudia Miller, Judy Housekeeper, and accompanist Barbara Fulton.

Members of the Girls Ensemble are: Row 1: S. Fink, C. Lawler, D. Kline, N. Adkins, K. Oram, L. Fassett, R. Larson, J. Richards. Row 2: J. Warnholz, B. Lunardini, J. Ferguson, M. Campbell, D. Brower, F. Rahn, N. Detwiler, S. Simms. Row 3: M. Black, R. Roach, S. Payne, P. Bauer. The accompanist is Carol Davis.

Members of the Boys Glee Club are: Row 1: P. Richeson, E. Davidson, T. Walther, E. Keller, K. Weldon, J. Rodgers, K. Newhams, S. Beach, J. Martin. Row 2: J. Minnotte, P. Olsen, H. Smith, J. Crissman, J. Brooks, R. Couch, D. Straub, B. Will. Row 3: T. Lavely, S. McGrew, F. Denkhaus, M. Love, W. McCollum, H. Jones, B. Massey, R. Miller, B. Chilcoat, J. White. The accompanist is Ed Shoemaker.

Members of the Mixed Chorus are: Row 1: M. Mock, P. Shore, H. Smith, P. Richeson, K. Weldon, W. McCollum, J. Housekeeper, N. Degnan, I. Larson. Row 2: S. McColm, J. Albert, S. Dittmar, T. Walther, J. White, B. Bates, G. Burrows, S. Dispennett, C. Harness, K. Seay. Row 3: S. Forbes, L. Brodmerkel, E. Swartz, J. Button, B. Will, R. Couch, J. Crissman, M. Love, A. Hoerneman, S. Becker, P. Jacobs, J. Housekeeper. Row 4: B. Massey, H. Jones, S. McGrew, F. Denkhaus, E. Shoemaker. The accompanist is Barbara Fulton.

Witness For The Prosecution Recalled

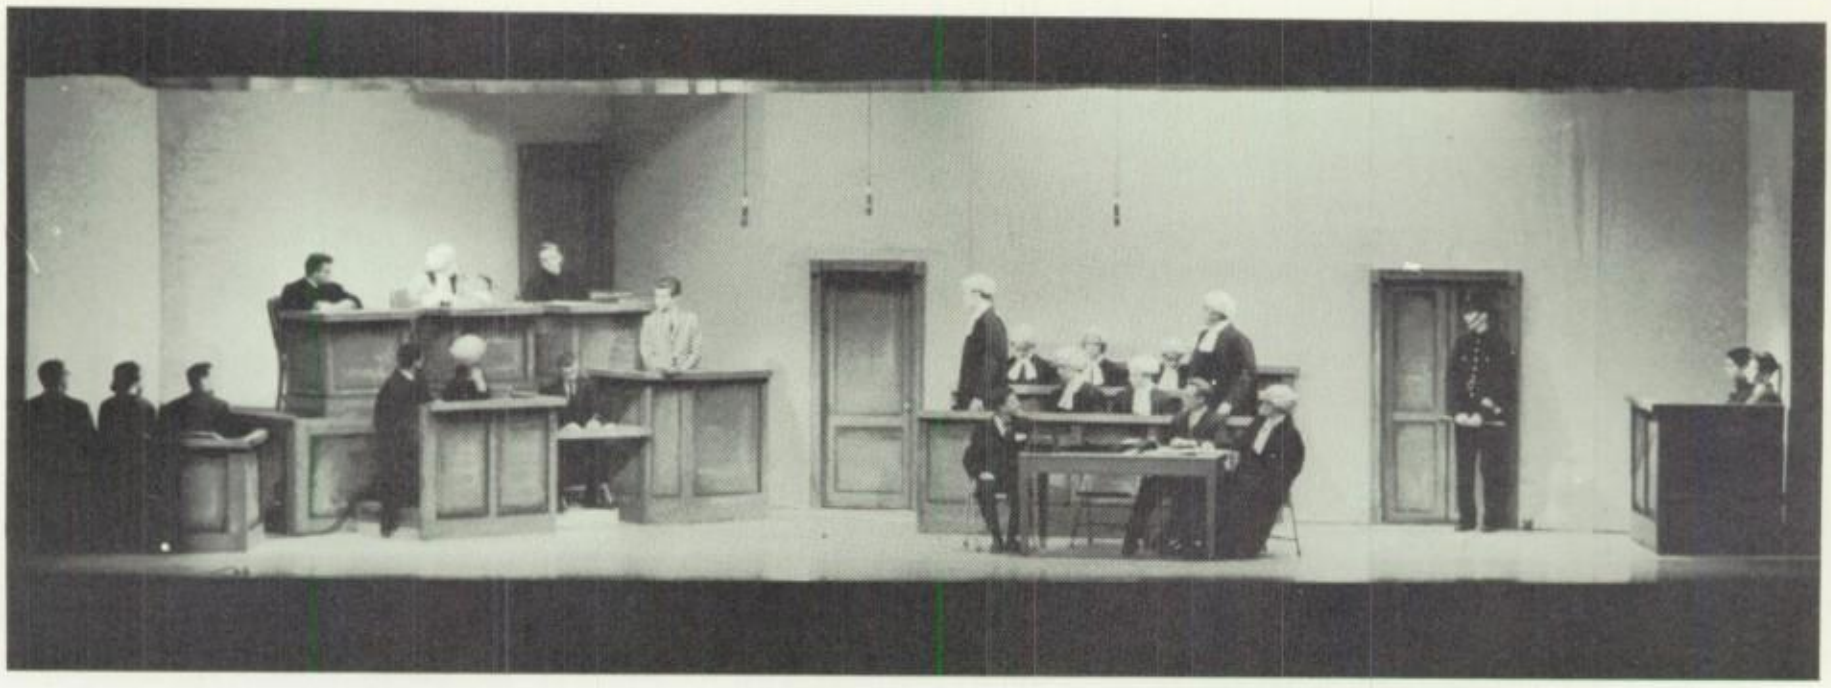
"Now, as to procedure . . . "

Suzy Dittmar portrays Greta, the empty-headed and effervescent secretary of Sir Wilfred.

Romaine furthers her complicated plan by producing evidence that indicts herself and frees her guilty husband.

"I shall be tried for murder!"



Conflicting evidence complicates the trial and creates an intriguing courtroom drama.

Departing from the traditional fare of romantic comedies, the senior class of Mt. Lebanon presented an intriguing murder mystery for its class play. Already a favorite with movie and theater-goers, Witness for the Prosecution, under the competent direction of Mr. Julian T. Myers and student director Jack Meyer, again received commendation after its performances here on November 17 and 18.

The plot concerned Leonard Vole, portrayed by David Wikoff, who was tried for the murder of a wealthy woman. During the dramatic courtroom scenes headed by Jay Livingston and Jeff Randall, as defending and prosecuting attorney respectively, little doubt of Vole's guilt remained. Then Carol Wimmer, as Leonard's foreign wife, Romaine, produced startling new testimony which concealed the true murderer until the final line of the play.

Skillful acting, directing, and producing enabled Witness for the Prosecution to take its stand among the excellent plays Mt. Lebanon has staged.

Taking the stand in his own defense, Vole shows strain under the barrage of cross-examination.

"I am quite willing to testify against my husband."

In the prisoner's dock, Vole hears the overwhelming evidence against him.

"Things Aren't Always What They Seem"

A last-minute rehearsal irons out the wrinkles in "Pinafore."

Josephine, played by Pat Jacobs, sings of her love to Ralph, played by Howard Smith.

"H.M.S. Pinafore," Gilbert and Sullivan's satirical operetta presented by the combined music departments as the spring musical, was a huge success.

The story is one of an apparently ill-fated love between Josephine, the captain's daughter (Pat Jacobs), and a common sailor far below her station (Howard Smith). An incredible and hilarious reversal solves their problem, because "things aren't always what they seem." Bruce Schein and Kip Weldon turned in excellent supporting performances as English officers, and Gini Burrows did an equally fine job as Buttercup.

The presentation was executed in professional fashion. The school's three choruses plus added male voices performed on the colorful set, which depicted the deck of the "Pinafore." The high school orchestra, under the baton of Mr. Yagello, provided the music for the lively score.

Under the direction of Miss May Sneary, Gilbert and Sullivan's popular operetta was a complete success.

"Oh joy, oh rapture unforseen!"

Life With Father Is A Hit

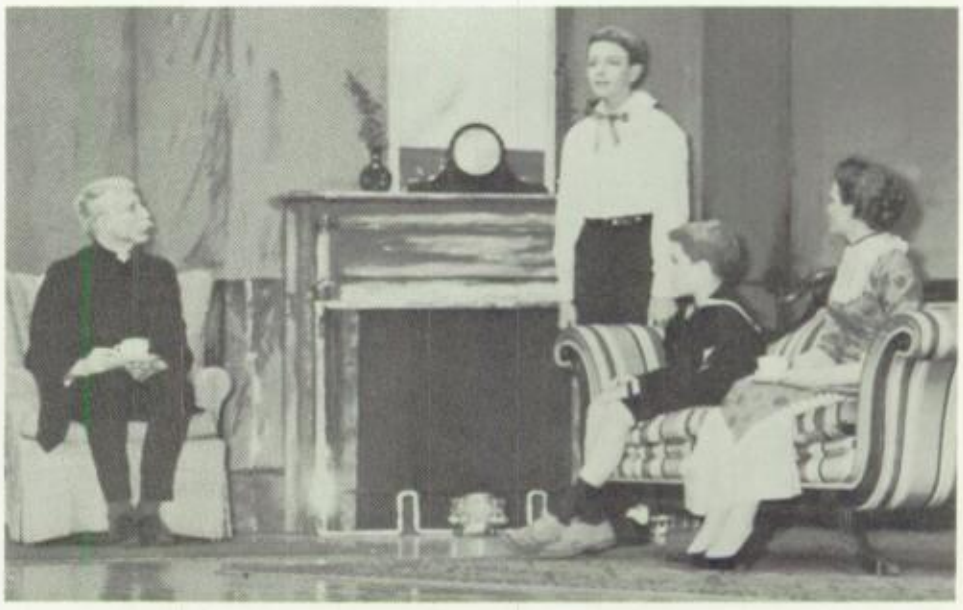
"Well, I'll show you how much I like you."

"I'll take that. Cora, you can say goodbye to Clarence on the sidewalk!"

"I want you boys to move that small bureau . . . "

This year, the activities play, Life with Father, sparkled with skillful satire. The drama takes place in the 1870's at the home of a wealthy New York family and involves visits from a ridiculous old maid cousin, Cora Cartwright (Maria Revesz) and her lovely charge, Mary Skinner (Ann Dillon), who becomes romantically entangled with Clarence Day (John Crissman). However, the whole drama is based on the warm domestic relationship of the Day family. Father Day (Jeff Randall) is a vivid character, a man who thinks he has supreme authority over his family. But Vinnie, his wife (Kit Irwin), through female wiles and typically illogical feminine reasoning, outwits him in every encounter. Under the superb direction of Mr. Meyers and David Wikoff, student director, the play refreshed and amused its audience.

"Now the accounts are all straight again."



". . . to succor my father and mother . . . "

Y-Teens Enjoy Year Of Fun And Service

The Y-Teens are student representatives of the Y.W.C.A. dedicated to helping and understanding others through social service. The Alpha, Delta, Beta, and Sigma groups are organized under the direction of Miss Hay, Miss Cass, Miss Manning, and Miss Frobese. During their meetings two evenings a month, the members of the clubs enjoyed varied and interesting programs. This year, a demonstration of grooming and hairstyling, a discussion of college life, and a lecture by a native of Pakistan highlighted the club's schedule. Through their work in orphanages and homes for the aged, the girls experienced growth in circles of friendship while serving the underprivileged. Each group of Y-Teens has an inter-Club council representative who meets once a month with girls from the area surrounding Mt. Lebanon. Presenting a novel idea in entertainment, the council sponsored a World Friendship tasting party. Finally, at the recognition ceremony, Miss Corrine McNickels, a women handicapped by the loss of her sight, delivered an inspiring address, symbolizing the spirit and climaxing the program of the organization. The Y-Teens learned about others to better understand themselves.

First semester officers of the Delta Y-Teens included Sally Horsman, Sally Eaches, and Marsha Mock.

Susan Hanke, Mary Beth Anderson, Karen Gaio, and Susan Oram were officers of the Sigma Y-Teens for the first semester.

Ruth Larson, Caryn Mather, Carol Gilbert, and Jeanne Tillson served as the Alpha Y-Teens officers during the first semester.

The Beta Y-Teen officers for the first semester were Kathy Randall, Jean McAllister, Susan Anderson, and Jane Bacon.

Officers of Delta Y-Teens for the second semester were Bonnie Ballantyne, Carolyn Eck, Mary Ann Jones, Margaret Van Dusen, and Joan Gerhold.

The officers of the Alpha Y-Teens during the second semester were Susie Hoar, Sue Matthews, Trisha Toon, Kathy Blackwell, and Carol Gilbert.

Second semester officers of the Sigma Y-Teens were Nancy Chadek, Babs Seamans, and Karlee Reeber.

Betty Jean Church, Kathy Randall, Jane Bacon, and Gretchen Lang were the officers of the Beta Y-Teens during the second semester.

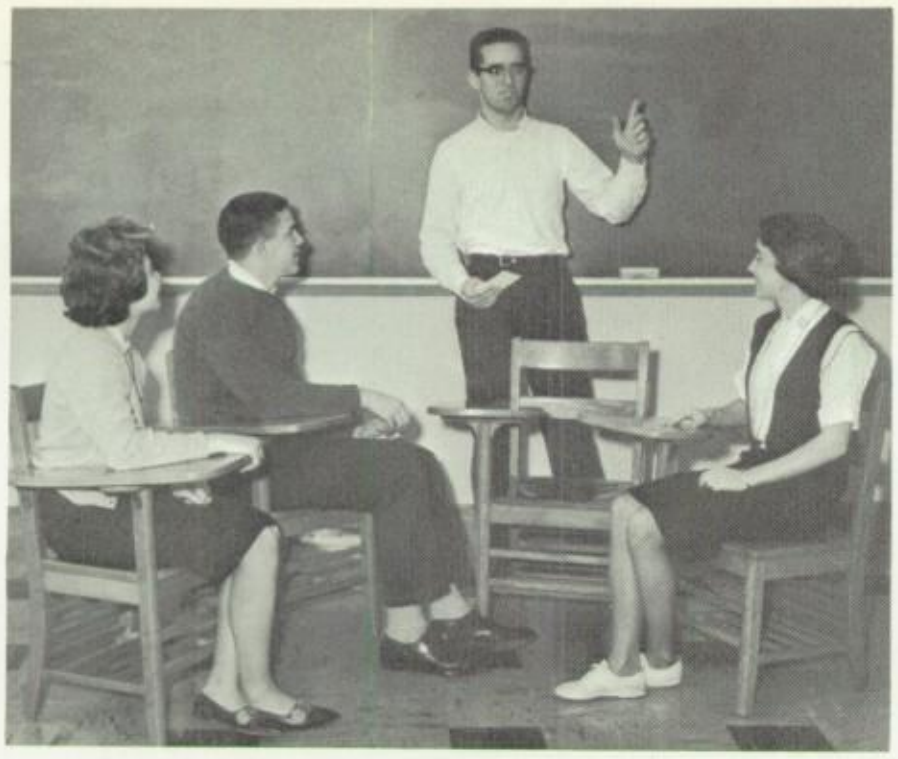
Under the direction of Mr. Myers, Kit Irwin, John Crissman, Maria Revesz, and Jack Meyer, talented and hard-working members of our Thespian Troupe, add a professional flair to our dramatic presentations.

"No, no! Please don't leave . . . "

Searching for unusual productions, our Thespian Troupe presented the first all-Thespian staged play and the first "theater in the round" presentation this year. They enacted Seigfried Geyer's Candlelight, a frivolous romantic comedy, starring Jack Meyer, John Crissman, and Maria Revesz. Both audience and actors enjoyed the challenge of participating in such a unique setting.

Double cases of mistaken identity complicate the hilarious plot.

Thespians present a scene from our first "theater in the round" production.



Although speech and debate is a relatively new activity at Mt. Lebanon, it has awakened a great response in students who realize the value of oratorical ability. The team is ably supported by members of the student body and has achieved both local and national recognition. The speech and debate members are also National Forensic League members. N.F.L. is a national honorary speech society open to students who rank in the upper third of their class. They must participate in interscholastic speech tournaments each Saturday from September through mid-April.

Those who participated in speech events during the year included Diane Browarsky, John Harper, Chuck Garland and Leslie Runger.

Members of the Mt. Lebanon Debate Team included Bill Koopman, Rita Fisher, Steve Moore, and Sandi Moore.

Each year, the National Quill and Scroll selects for membership those students who have made outstanding contributions to various areas of high school journalism. These students are honored for services rendered, for time spent, and for creativeness achieved.

After being initiated into the National Quill and Scroll Honorary Society, Bill Lane, Patience Kenney, Carolyn Tamplin, Bill Benz, Sandy Kauper, Mary Coltman, Kathy Schwarz, Sally Smith, John Mather, and Hetz Marsh gather around the punch bowl.

Surrounding Mrs. Davis are Sharon Ham, Roger Debenham, Linda Grove, Margaret Van Dusen, Dave Tomb, Nancy Naismith, Alan Mandel, and Jeff Reeves, members of the twelth grade guidance council.

Writing and organizing the homeroom programs and distributing them to each section's vice-president for presentation are the duties of the Student Guidance Councils. Faculty advisors for tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade councils respectively are Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Adamson, and Dr. Denbow.

Members of the eleventh grade guidance council included Bob Geesman, Tom Copeland, Judy Housekeeper, Susan Hanke, Don Parsons, and Adele Orr.

Members of the tenth grade guidance council included Lynn Saul, Donna Beiswenger, Dick Close, Mary Ellen Haynes, Karen Tracey, and Ruth Groff.

Senior homeroom representatives for the second semester formed the Senior Advisory Council, which planned the senior activities. Members were Patti Miller, Ellen Phillips, Caddy Durkin, Helen Reichl, Deb Bateman, Sue Arburu, Dave Minnottee, Jock Beachler and Jay O'Connor.

Members of the scenery painting squad, Diane Koerner, Pam Hyslop, Peter Dyer, and Lynn Davis, were responsible for the ingenious sets and backgrounds of the theatrical and choral productions of the year.

The vivid charcoal and painted pictures which adorned the auditorium lobby were the works of the members of the art squad. Members included Diane Koerner, Pam Hyslop, Ann Wharton, Dana Simpson.

Through the ingenuity of the members of the bulletin board squad, Pam Hyslop, Linda Holtz, Laura Sefton, Cindy McGrew, Nancy Degnan, Diane Koerner, and Judy Hunter, our halls abounded with colorful posters reminding us of good study habits and informing us of scheduled events.

Gaining experience in a most practical vocation, the girls in F.H.A., including Barbara Mehaffey, Nancy Jo Cotton, and Charlotte Timmons, prepare to assume their roles as the housewives of tomorrow.

Caddy Durkin, Mimi Mayers, Jeanie Alexander, and Janice Greenfield, officers of the F.T.A., acquaint aspirants to the teaching field with their future profession by providing actual teaching experience.

Many of the members of F.N.A., including Wendy Weppner, Marlene Singer, Judy Housekeeper, and Margaret Van Dusen, hope to wear the perky, white cap of a nurse in the near future. Meanwhile, they prepare themselves for this vocation with discussions and movies.

y conducting extra, after-school experiments, members of the physics squad, who ncluded Gordon Seybold, Larry Guess, Dave Johns, and Rod Burns, gained a etter comprehension of the natural laws of Newton and Pascal.

The biology squad's duties include watering plants, cleaning slides, and repairing microscopes. The students on this squad were Gail Marlow, Lindy Evans, John Hulsberg and John Woodrick.

In the atmosphere of reagent bottles, graduated cylinders, and bunsen burners members of the chemistry squad, Sandi Moore, Bob Graves, Bob Harris, Steve Moore, and John Negele, further class learning with individual experimentation.

Whether the production called for humor, spectacle, or drama, the costume committee, including Harriet Poel, Marty Lewis, Ann Dempsey, Ellen Phillips, Barbara Clinton, Linda Rote, and Barbara Grose, helped create the necessary characters and effects through the use of color, fabric, and style.

With greasepaint sticks, powder-laden puffs, and eyeliners, the make-up squad transformed classmates into personalities ranging from lawyers to cowboys. Members were Wini Watson, Dana Simpson, Phyllis Hardtmayer, and Sally Sutherland.

Bob Geeseman, Mary Ellen Haynes, Lynne Ricca, Jan Wunderlich, and Willis Siegfried, members of the properties committee, provided furniture, books, briefcases, and accessories to create realistic backgrounds for our stage presentations.

The girls on checkroom squad provided for the storing of wraps at both school and public functions. Members of this squad were Mimi Mayers, Margaret Black, Helen Rovegno and Lynn Van Tries.

The girls' usher squad lent a note of charm and welcome to lectures and musical presentations at the school. Members were Marilyn Reynolds, Rosemary Werner and Dana Smith.

Distributing tickets at school, collecting them at the gate, and handling the crowd of spectators, the athletic ushers squad, Ralph Alster, Geoff Steele, Jim Davidson, and Ed Harper, furnished a link in the chain of committees that serves at sports events.

By their orderly direction of traffic, the boys' usher squad, made up of Jim Offutt, Dave Roberts, Bill Byers and Bruce Thomson, held the key to the seating and passing of classes before and after programs.

Conducting meetings in Spanish is a challenge, especially for first-year Spanish students. With the help of senior members, even beginning linguists began acquiring conversational skills. Officers of the Spanish club were Carolyn Crook, Pat Barnum, Dave Roberts, and Candy Harness.

Eagerly awaited each day by classrooms full of hungry students, the call of the cafeteria dispatchers summoned each room to lunch. Those who created the even flow of traffic through the lunch line were Georganne Burch, Margie Luxbacher, Janet Geist, and Bette Ridinger.

As in the Middle Ages, modern jousts between knights on the chessboard demand skill and quick thinking. Members of the chess club, who were Ken Newhams, Truman Flowers, Dave Crofford and Gil Young, acquired these qualities in practice and competition.

Changing to the quality point system complicated the job of the scholastic committee, who nevertheless posted the honor roll in every homeroom at the end of each report period. Members were Bill Weaver, Linda Menke, and Colonel Bruntjen.

The achievement committee, consisting of Carolyn Crook, Tom Doorley, and Patti Miller, published a post-graduation list of last year's class and recorded the accomplishments of other Mt. Lebanon alumni.

Since the school sponsors ninety-six extra-curricular activities, the task of recording students' points is a large one. These recorders, members of the honor award committee, were Diane Browarsky, Diane Kraetsch, Lynne Davis, and Emmy Lou Weaver.

The members of the Attendance Squad, headed by Carolyn Ede and Gretchen Brown, recorded missing members of our student body and provided teachers with an accurate list of absent students.

The Information Squad, whose members included Bonnie Ehlers, Carolyn Eck, and Kathy Winterhalter, helped new students and visitors find their destinations.

The Lost and Found Squad collected misplaced items and posted a list to notify the student body of unclaimed articles. Some members were Carmela Finelli, Mary Ann Ivanciw, Harriett Weinberg, and Sue Russell.

The Hospitality Squad welcomed newcomers and visitors to our school with a friendly smile, an offer to help, and willing information. Members included John Weisiger, Leslie Runger, Barbara Blansett and Jim Stevenson.

The Ways and Means Committee, including Maria Revesz, Sandy Otto, Knut Johnsen, Chuck Garland, and Joy Scheck, sold candy after school, and cokes, popcorn, hot dogs, candy, and programs at football games to earn money for the activities fund.

Keeping the cafeteria patrons moving in an orderly fashion was the job capably handled by the Host and Hostess Squad, headed by Mary Ann Jones and Kathie Williams.

Carl Gainor, Bill Carnell, Dan Cole, Rod Burns, Jerry Spears, and John Rodgers, members of the P.A. squad, kept our public address system in working order during class hours and at all school events where the system was needed.

The expressive voices of the studio squad members awoke students every morning and kept them awake while the staff reported news, sports, and special announcements. The members were Tim Smith, Kit Irwin, John Crissman, and Leslie Runger.

By presenting interesting and inspirational programs, the devotional squad led the student body to greater understanding of the spiritual force which influences our daily lives. Members included Dave Klaber, Nancy Nuernberg, Alec Lamont, Alice Schade, Kit Irwin, and Suzy Dittmar.

Caddy Durkin, Ken Coleman, Dave Minotte, Babs Seamans, and Fred Sargent, as members of the social committee, produced novel plans for record hops, mixers, and formals, as well as new schemes for selling tickets.

The decorating committee, including Bonnie Kasun and Frank Battaglia, supplied the leaves for the Junior - Senior Prom and cartoons for the Sadie Hawkins, as well as appropriate backgrounds for all school dances.

Junior Red Cross members Alan Mandel, Ken Newhams, Ruth Summers, and Mary Ann Ivanciw fulfill their organization's aim by helping the world's peoples from veterans in a local hospital to kindergarteners in Chile.

Although the girls of the medical squad, Irene Kalogeras, Emy Lou Weaver, Alice Aston, Marilyn Reynolds, and Kay Garett, are unable as yet to cure all the world's ills, they manage successfully to take care of headaches, stoved fingers, and sprained ankles.

In spite of the hauling, lifting, and confusion backstage, the stage crew always managed to change the most elaborate settings during the short breaks between acts. Members were Doug Lashley, Rob Heist, John Morris, Ben Parsons, Ralph Alster, John Larkin, and Pete Tropp.

Our huge parking lot is no advantage without the knowledge that can get the most out of it by putting the most into it. Members of the parking lot squad were Stewart Beach, Jimmie Hoff, Dave Tomb, Jack Froelich, Colonel Bruntjen, and Peter Olson.

By the dim light of the projector, the members of the projection squad, Dave Rosenblatt, Tony Lavely, and Philip Judge, struggled to splice worn film and adjust sound tracks.

The publicity squad members, Bill Wicker, Bill Lane, Cora Sue Deal, and Nancy Cameron, kept the school well-informed of school, social, and educational events.

The Student Directory Committee, composed of Sandy Kauper, Barb Grose, Jill Hagan, Missy Wurzbach, Dan Iams, Mimi Mayers, and Diane Gething, was responsible for publishing the addresses and telephone numbers of all students.

Peggy Hewitt, Linda Easterling, Barb Cooley, Julianne Hering, and Sandy Rodgers, and Ruth Summers, members of the library squad, were in charge of checking books, shelving, and various other duties connected with the library.

The newly created boys' information squad aided visitors entering the south entrance of the school in finding their way through the crowded halls and stairways. Members included Dave Minnottee, Dave Manoogian, John Harper, and Alan Mandel.

"Go Lebo, Go!"

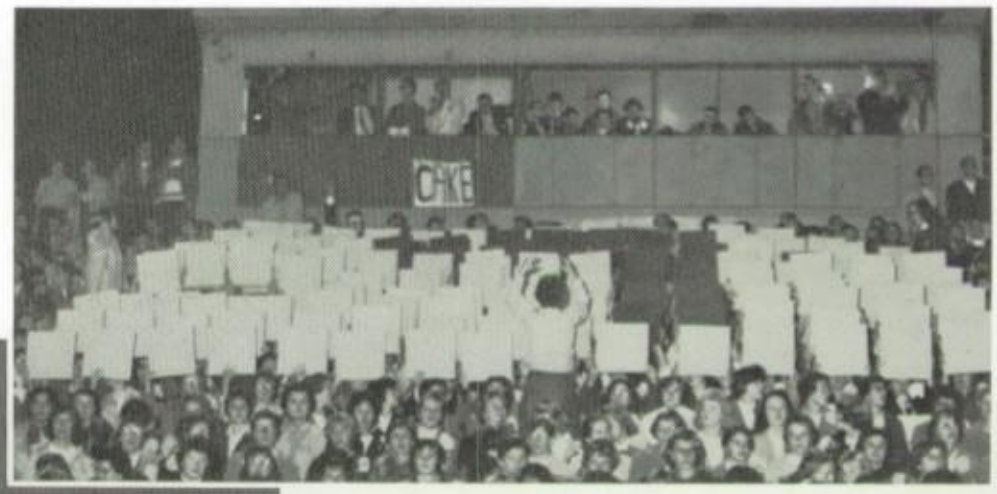
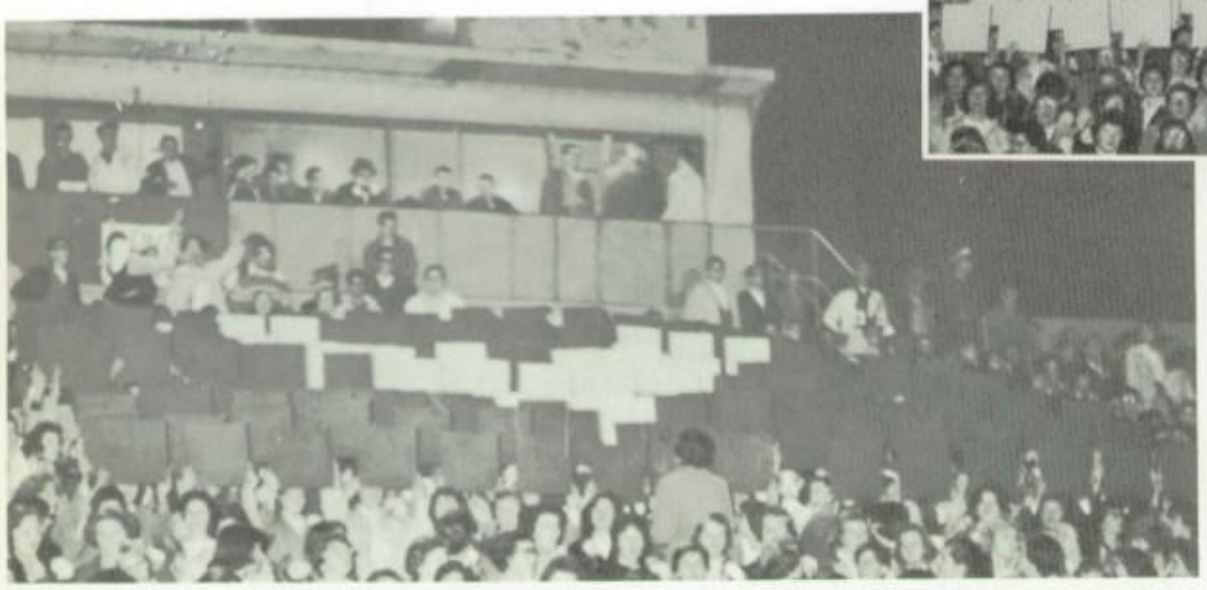
"We want a victory from the varsity."

School spirit flares at the kick-off rally.

Spirit is the bubbling, overflowing vigor which our student body exhibited throughout this school year, the feeling of oneness which binds us together, whether we are the cheering spectators or the cheered-for participants. We saw, felt, and displayed our enthusiasm—in the blue and gold flashcard "Hi" welcoming a visiting band, in the victory songs rising from the four corners of the cafeteria, in the extra burst of speed giving a swimmer or a cross country runner a first place medal, or in megaphones, athletic letters and banners. Our spirit was indomitable. Whether we won or lost, it was always present in full, rousing force.





The pep squad transmits spirit to the spectators.

This year's Varsity Cheerleaders, Barb Clinton, Caddy Durkin, Bonnie Kasun, Sandy Berg, Dana Simpson, Jeanne Heid, Carla Meuller, Lynne Ricca, and Bonnie Hoskin, spurred on school spirit.

Enthusiastic cheers accompany an evening of ceremony and celebration.

Second to none in pep and enthusiasm, our Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, Sally Service, Joan Sherbondy, Judy Foldes, Jean Smith, Cathy Duff, Cathy O'Connor, and Judy Mulach, symbolized our spirit.

Students' faces reflect excitement and attention.

Blue Devils Turn In Best Season Record

The 1960 Mt. Lebanon football team, a perennial gridiron powerhouse, lost only one game of a tough schedule that included eight rugged W.P.I.A.L. Class AA teams as well as the city giants, Westinghouse. Only a stunning 27-7 upset by Wilkinsburg in the season's sixth game marred the Mounty's perfect record and knocked the team out of the W.P.I.A.L. chase. The team featured a powerful and explosive offense that rolled up 279 points for an impressive average of 31 points per game. The defense did a commendable job, allowing only a total of 84 points for the nine opponents. Coach Ralph Fife was the guiding hand behind the team's success. The Blue Devil's great spirit was a reflection of the enthusiasm demonstrated by the student body at both home and away games.

Lynn Foltz snares a pass and speeds for a touchdown.

McMillan breaks away.

The Mt. Lebo eleven opened their season with an overpowering win as the Blue Devils trounced Elizabeth-Forward, 48-18. The next week-end City League Champs Westinghouse tasted defeat, to the tune of 28-0. The Mounty machine rolled on as the team traveled to clash with Trinity, which fell, 34-7. Back home for the next two Fridays, Mt. Lebanon crushed first Canon-McMillan and then brought a fine Washington team to its knees with an awesome avalanch of touchdowns, 39-0 and 48-14, respectively. The following Friday night, the bottom fell out of the hopes for a W.P.I.A.L. championship as the Mounty attack sputtered and left the Blue Devils on the short end of a 7-27 score. Mt. Lebanon jumped to an early seven point lead and the Mounty fans settled back for another easy victory; but Wilkinsburg roared for four touchdowns and stifled the Blue Devils attack the rest of the way. The following week-end, the revenge-minded Mounties handed their Uniontown rivals a 34-6 setback. The senior recognition game highlighted the next Friday, and the team romped for a 28-12 victory over Baldwin. In the finale of a tremendous season, the team blitzed Munhall 13-0.

Mounty stalwarts Bill Reeves, Jock Beachler, Bernie La-Quinta, Dick Wyles, Lynn Foltz, and Reed Overend made the Western Class AA Football Conference All-Star Team.

The Mounty defense closes in.

The 1960 J. V. football team, coached by Bill Grant and John Kracsun, had a season crowned with success, handing in a 7-1 season. The squad romped over its first opponent, Penn Hills. Then the boys fought to a victory over Canonsburg. In the following game, a forceful Baldwin eleven upset the J. V.'s. The determined Mounties retaliated, however, with a booming 39-0 victory over Shaler. The J. V. team next met with Trinity to batter them with a 33-13 defeat. The J. V.'s unleashed a 32-0 scoring attack against Scott, but the following week Bethel suffered a 32-7 loss from the invincib'e eleven. For their last game, the Mounties crushed a spirited Wilkinsburg team. The potential talent of this year's squad will provide the manpower for the coming season.

A Strong Cross Country Team Turns In A

Weisiger finishes the final leg of the race.

A perennial front runner in the W.P.I.A.L., Mt. Lebanon produced another fine cross country team. This was a year of rebuilding for Coach Mollenaur's Blue and Gold, and the results did not quite equal last year's state championship achievements. The season started out at a fast pace as Mt. Lebanon captured six out of six dual meets, but the team encountered difficulty in the three invitationals.

At Penn State, the best of Pennsylvania's runners gathered for the annual P.I.A.A. Meet. Mt. Lebanon brought home a respectable second place in the meet, as John Stobie brought home a first place and John Weisiger captured a ninth. Fine varsity performances were turned in by co-captains John Stobie and John Weisiger, as well as the other team members, John Wright, Chuck Perrine, Jim Dittmar, Tim McNeeley, and Dan Hrisak.

Hoopsters Triumph In W. P. I. A. L. Race

The varsity basketball team, coached by Richard Black, swept into W. P. I. A. L. competition to defeat strong and favored opponents in an unprecedent year. The Mounties climaxed the season by winning the W.P.I.A.L. Championship for the first time in school history.

After dropping a few exhibition contests, the Blue Devils started functioning like the well-drilled squad that they proved themselves to be. Washington came to our gym for a deciding contest in the section race. Before a screaming throng, sophomore Jack Waltz put on a tremendous display of ball handling and the Lebo hoopsters took a half-time advantage which they never relinquished. The Mounties upset their arch rivals with solid defensive play in a hard fought 67-52 triumph. Disposing of their next three contenders, the team went on to victory in the section, the first time since 1947. The team presented a 15-6 record for regularly scheduled season play, but the capturing of the section title earned them the right to represented Section 4-A in the W.P.I.A.L. Tournament.

Mt. Lebanon faced Beaver for the first round of the title tourney. Andy Alex saved the night for Mt. Lebanon by his accuracy on the foul line and the team advaced to face the Section 3 titlists, Aliquippa. The highly-rated Aliquippa team suffered a crushing 70-49 defeat in the quarter-finals against the sizzling Lebo quintet, shooting an overwhelming fifty per cent from the field. Towering Bob Bennett turned in a tremendous performance, both defensively and offensively, scoring twenty-four points. Now in the peak of condition, Mt. Lebanon was ready to take on McKeesport. The speedy offensive ball-handling of the Lebo hoopsters, the desire to win, and the effective defense proved disastrous to McKeesport to the tune of 62-53. The dynamic back court action of Dick Wyles along with the poise and polish of the team moved the Blue Devils into the semi-final contest with Uniontown. Mt. Lebanon emerged the victor in a see-saw battle with the Uniontown Raiders in a 59-56 verdict. With time running out, Mt. Lebanon executed clutch scoring plays which earned them the W.P.I.A.L. Championship. The score was tied six times and the lead changed hands eight times before Captain Lorry Hathaway passed to Jack Waltz for a decisive layup.

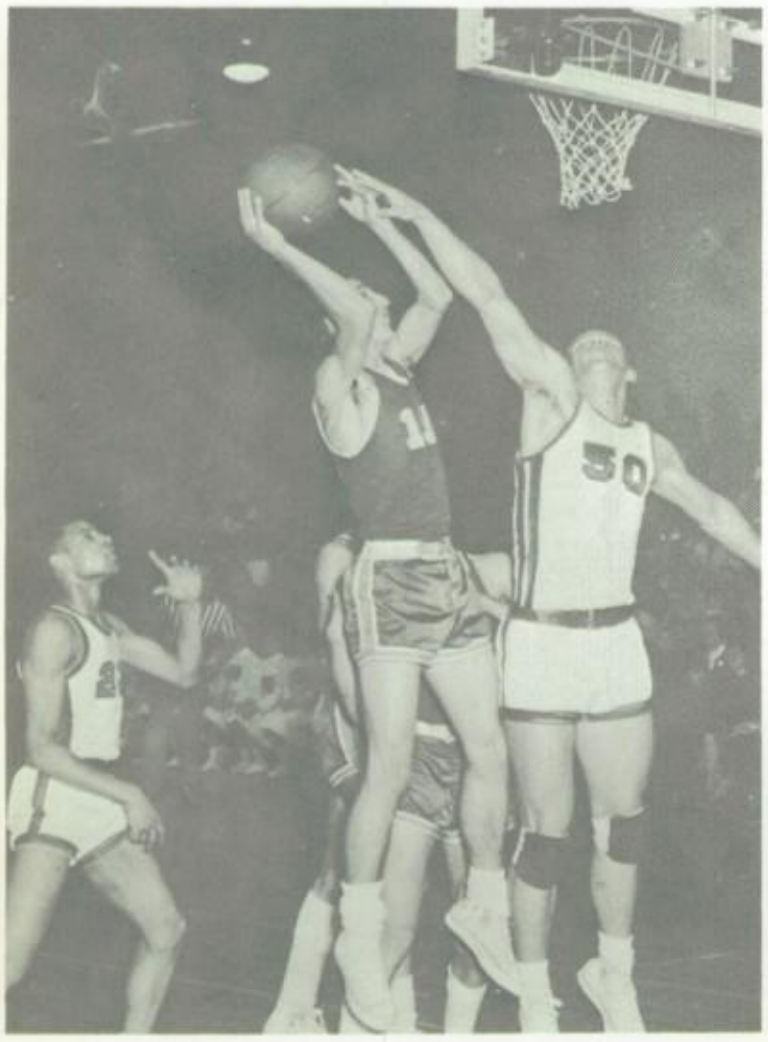
Before 5,000 cheering fans, the title-winning Blue Devils clashed with Johnstown for the P.I.A.A. Regional eliminations. An inspired and aggressive Mt. Lebanon team got off to a fast start and dominated the court throughout the contest. Johnstown plagued by the shifting Mounty defense and inconsistent scoring, went down to defeat, 62-41.

The Blue Devils experienced an off night against Hickory for the Western Regional Title and the right to play in the state championship. The score was tied three times in the first period but then Hickory slowly pulled ahead. In the third quarter, the Blue Devils almost closed the scoring gap, but Hickory clamped down a tight defense and connected from the field to win 59-41.

Bennett led the team statistically, averaging some 17.5 points per game, followed by Hathaway with 14.5 points per tilt.

This year's team had the ability to present a well-balanced reserve strength. McNally, Sunner, Theis, Cobaugh, Johnson and Lynch performed with the well-known high caliber smoothness.

The brilliant performance of this year's basketball team resulted in a record-breaking season and hopes of a state championship in the coming year.



A determined Andy Alex goes up to clinch two more.

J.V. Stresses Team Strengthening

Despite the hustling play of Coach Stanish's Junior Varsity team, the Mounties went down to their first losing season in nine years. Hampered by squad inexperience, the J.V.'s succumbed to strong section competition, posting a 5-16 record.

Grabbing the high point honors for the team were Charles Cornell and Dave Williams. Fred Jones led the team in rebounds and was a standout on defense. Rick Collins, Don Seymour, and Chuck Koepke round out the host of J.V. players.

The outstanding single game was against Washington's Little Prexies on their own court. The team was down some seventeen points at the half but took the floor in the second period of the contest and came through with a point outburst that narrowed the gap to five points; only to see Washington High snap back and edge out a 49-40 win in a court struggle.

With the prospects from the junior high schools coupled with the seasoned regulars, Coach Stanish expects a more satisfying season next year.

Consistently one of the most powerful wrestling squads in the section, the Mounties proved 1961 no exception as the matmen, coached by Mr. George Lamprinakos, ended the season with a strong second place in the section. Consistant winners such as Dave Wray (13-1), Drew Bachman (12-1-1) and Ken Coleman (12-2) provided the team with repeated victories. They were supported by seniors John Lewis (10-2-2), Dick Ray (8-3), Jack Saxer (7-4-3), Jeff Minno (7-7), and underclassmen Richard Ruben (6-2), Dennis Minno (4-7-2), Jerry Kemp (4-8-2), Mike Tumpson (3-11), and Bruce Brunswick (2-9).

Because the majority of lettermen graduated, Coach Lamprinakos was faced with the task of rebuilding. For their first meet of the season, the matmen were edged out by Carnegie in a close 25 to 21 match. Trinity overcame the Blue Devils in their next outing 33 to 18. Munhall chalked up a win against the Mounties with a score of 26 to 20. The grapplers rallied to upset both Dormont, 36 to 21 and Peters Township, 25 to 20. Mt. Lebanon fell to Baldwin, 28 to 19. Shaler, the section king, won over the Blue Devils, 39 to 9. For their next match Mt. Lebanon defeated North Hills, 30 to 18; only to lose to North Allegheny, 25 to 22. The Lebo matmen came out on top against New Castle and Scott, 36 to 18, and 49 to 5, respectively. Washington handed the Mounties a setback of 30 to 17 and West Allegheny squeezed out a 27 to 26 verdict.

In the sectional tournament, Mt. Lebanon placed six boys in the finals. Ken Coleman went on to win for Mt. Lebanon in the section tournament.

Competition

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Jones, the "B" squad wrestling team lost only one meet throughout the entire season. These agressive matmen romped over almost all contending schools, loosing only one meet in two years of competition. Fast-developing boys such as Jeff Kumer, Bill Zimmerman, Phil Albus, and Ron Chappell are headed for varsity positions in the future. Carnegie, Trinity, Montour, Baldwin, Washington, and West Mifflin all met with defeat at the hands of the grapplers.

Coach Jones plans to maintain his admirable record of one loss over his two-year coaching period by incessant team strengthening.

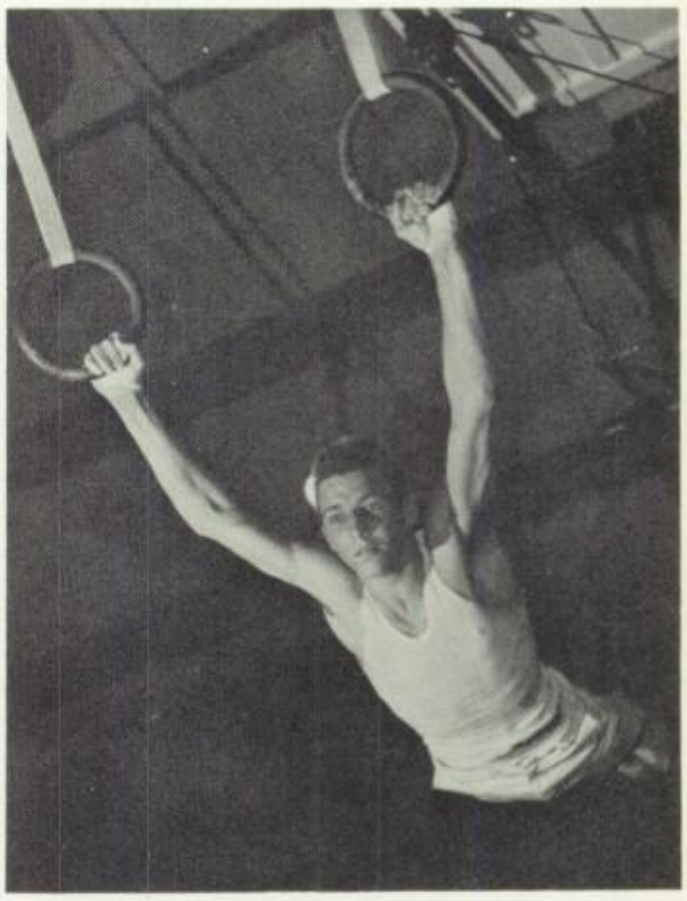
Mr. Joseph Pagnanelli, the head coach and the man responsibile for the introduction of gymnastics into our athletic program, developed his team into a precision unit. During the winter, the boys presented a rigorous demonstration of their talents to the entire student body.

In the coming years, Coach Pagnanelli hopes to continue visiting Pitt Stadium and formally entering W. P. I. A. L. competition.



Muscles flexed, Benson performs with precision and agility on the flying rings.

Swimming Team Upholds Spotless Record

This year's swimming team, under the coaching of William Grant and the fine leadership of captains Dick Esposito and Stoddart Smith, posted a perfect 14 and 0 record for the regular dual-meet season. The team swam away with the W.P.I.A.L. Championship Meet this year, establishing eight new records. The mermen repeated last year's performance and scored 110 points to the 17 points scored by the second place team. Tom Trethewey set a record time of 1:02.0 minutes in the butterfly stroke. He also rewrote the record books with new marks for the W.P.I.A.L., National Interscholastic, and American Athletic Union. At Lawrenceville, New Jersey, in the Eastern Interscholastic Championship Swimming Meet, the team turned in an outstanding performance. During the season, the team participated in The National Postal Meet in Wichita, Kansas. Over fifteen of the nation's top high school swimming teams entered and Mt. Lebanon swept over all opposition. The team also won the Western Pennsylvania Regional Qualifying Meet at Butler, and for the third year in a row, won the State Championship Meet at Bucknell. The secret behind the team's success is fine coaching, desire, and hard work.

The freestylers are led by Esposito, Martin, Shields, Davidson, Thomson, Nicholas, Blum, Kurtz, and Burdick. In the backstroke the Mounties have Shekell, Stoody, McKain, and Campbell. Heading up the butterfly event are Smith, Toucey, and Lindsey, and in the breast stroke are Trethewey, Schwartz, Beck, and Bullock. Assuming the diving duties of the team are Erickson, Hamilton, and Hilleman. Many of the boys can swim more than one stroke well, giving the team versatility and depth.

Rifle Team Compiles An Enviable Record

Although hindered by inexperience, the Mt. Lebanon riflemen once again completed a satisfying season. Captained by Eleanor Swartz, the team's consistent high scorers were Bob Van Nuise, Judi Greene, Mary Ann Herr, and Jerry Bokan. The Mounty sharpshooters outshot all contending teams except an always tough Munhall squad.

Coach Neal is looking forward to next season with great anticipation. Since only three lettermen will be lost through graduation, the nucleus of a potential state championship team will be returning in the fall.

Track Reigns King As Mounties Capture

Bang! And they're off!

The 1960 Blue Devil Track Team under the coaching of Donley Mollenauer sailed through their dual-meet schedule to post their fifth straight W.P.I.A.L. Championship. The Mounty squad increased their streak of dual-meet wins by seven, to total up to a fantastic 119 wins in 16 seasons without a tie or setback. The powerful track men won every major track meet which was possible to schedule in the Western Pennsylvania area; among these were the W.P.I.A.L. Relays and the W.P.I.A.L. Track and Field Championships. The Mounties chalked up a whopping 123 points to Shaler's four in a dual meet which meant another change in the record books.

Honors won by the Mt. Lebo track men included the W.P.I.A.L. pole vault record, a Mansfield four-mile relay record, one individual state championship, and three W.P.I.A.L. first place trophies.

Jack Gilbert qualifies with room to spare in an invitational at Mt. Lebanon.

In individual performances, the Mounties produced a crop of standouts. Team co-captain and hurdling star, Denny Deal, totaled up the most points for the Mounty squad. Denny, the state champion in the 180-yard low hurdles and team high scorer, proved to be a key man for the Blue Devils. Dick Walker crumbled the existing javelin and discus records by hurling a 200-6½ in the javelin and 155-6 in the discus. Bob Walker and Fred Eassa were other top-ranking point-getters in the field events. The jumpers, coached by Dick Toler, broke both existing school records, while Eassa topped the W.P.I.A.L. pole vault mark.

J. V.'s Provide Reserve Strength For Varsity

Junior Varsity Coach Dick Jones and his assistant Leo Vroble turned out some top-flight replacements to plug up the holes left by the 1960 graduates. The JV squad had quite an impressive year, winding up the season with a 4-2 record. The team suffered defeat against the Bethel and North Allegheny varsity teams; but the Mounties bounced back to conquer a strong Hopewell varsity.

In addition to an admirable team showing, a number of Coach Jones's tracksters proved themselves to be standout performers. Sprinter, Willis Siegfried; Reed Agnew, Hurdler; Bob Harvey, half-mile; Jan Wunderlich and Jeff Minno in the discus and javelin; Gus Kalogeras, shot, discus and javelin; and Ed Davidson, shot putter, all took individual honors in W.P.I.A.L. competition. This year's well-rounded team will provide reserve strength and depth for the varsity in the ensuing years.

Lebo Netters Battle Strenuous Schedule

Klaber stands poised as Garvey follows through with a side-arm smash.

Under the direction of Coach Victor Doak, the 1960 Tennis Team ended its season with a powerful second place in the W.P.I.A.L. Conference. The team was invincible to all but Shadyside and the league-leading Carnegie who proved to be the stumbling blocks in the 1960 campaign.

Hard-hitting Bob Garvey was the number one man of the Mounty team. Captain Doug Montgomery filled the number two spot, while senior Peter Rzanicki rounded out the top trio. Coach Doak utilized good depth in singles positions and placed a special emphasis on doubles play, pooling the talents of Bob Garvey and Bill Ellis. Consistency and team cooperation helped the 1960 Lebo netters to play the brand of tennis responsible for such a creditable season.

Dave Minnotte unleashed a sizzling drive.

Jim Lynch, a picture of concentrated effort, blasts his way out of a sand trap.

Coach Burrows and his squad of Mt. Lebo golfers ended their scheduled season with an 8 and 1 record, suffering the first and only loss to New Castle. The Mounty linksmen took first place in Section Five Competition. Bridgeville, Carnegie, Bethel, and Upper St. Clair each bowed twice to the Lebo golfers. These hard fought victories enabled the team to travel to play in the Section Five Playoff.

Team captain Jim Russel won the Most Valuable Player Award, shooting in the 70's. Dave Minnotte, George Donaldson, Jim Lynch, Ron Spiegal, and Jim Russel averaged about 78 strokes per round to provide the team with consistency and depth. Newly-elected team captain Dave Minnotte and Coach Burrows expect another high-caliber golf team in 1961.

The mounty double-play combination moves into action as Fletcher backhands a stinging grounder.

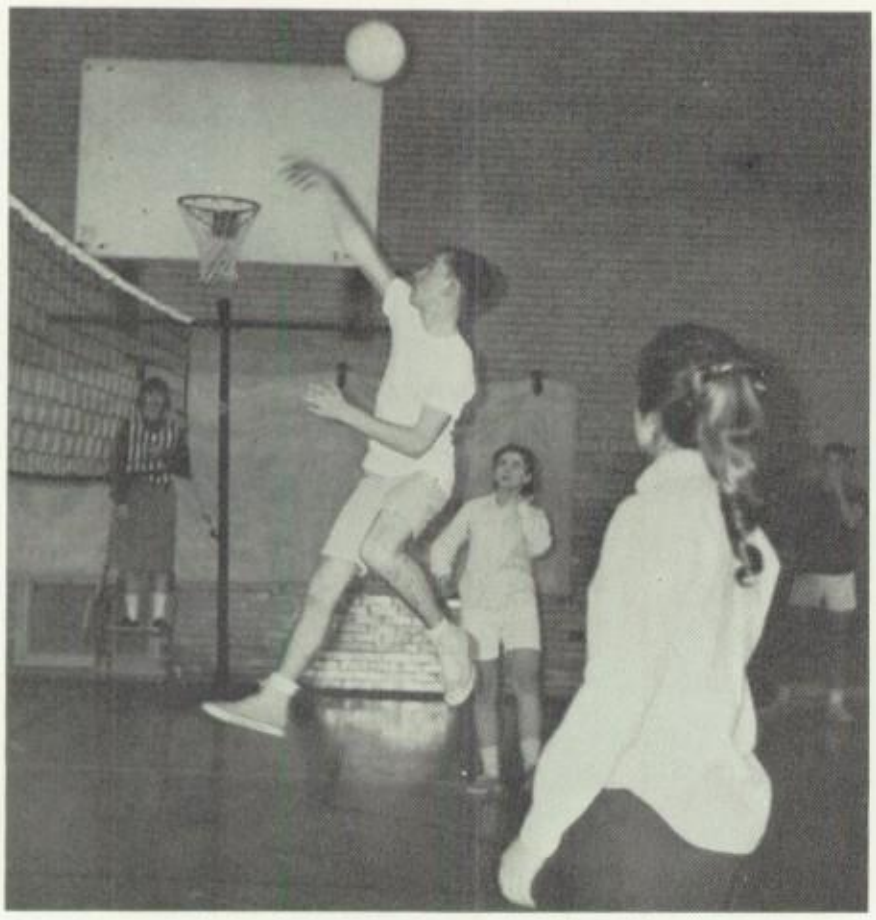
Sunner stirs the infield dust as he slides to avert the put-out.

Plagued by the lack of top-notch returning lettermen, the Mounty nine failed to match previous records. A good crop of sophomores and juniors did do a creditable job in bringing up the slack, but they suffered from lack of experience.

Claiming the honors at the batting cage were Mike Sunner, Jim Daniell, Bruce Fletcher, and Lynn Foltz with collected season averages of .310, .321, .302, and .297 respectively. Andy Alex, Jack Howe, and John Edwards formed the nucleus of the mound crew. Jim Daniell undertook the behind-the-plate duties while Dave Karlson resumed his position at first base. The potent double-play combination of Mike Sunner and Bruce Fletcher, along with Lynn Foltz holding down third base, completed the tasks of the infield. Reed Overend, Bernie Laquinta, and Tom Housekeeper roamed the outfield pastures for the varsity crew.

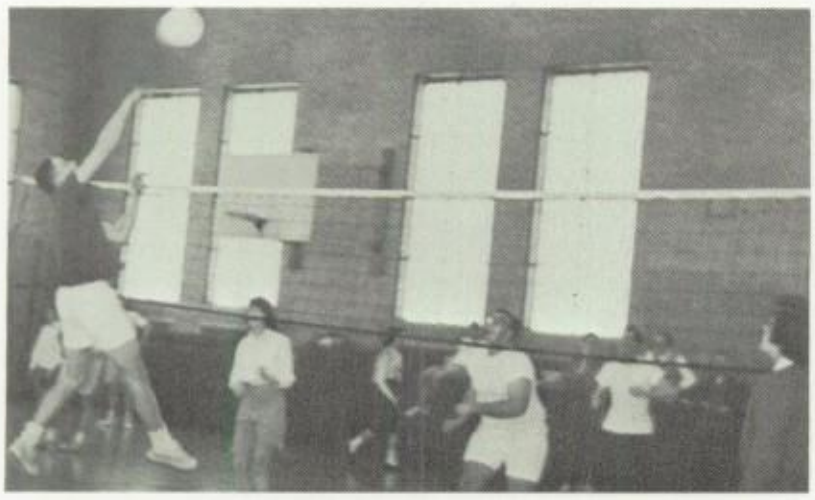
Mt. Lebanon got a feather in its cap by knocking off its old rival, Trinity, with a 9 to 2 win and then went on to trounce Washington. A wealth of talented candidates, team spirit, and a desire to win are all contributing factors which Coach Clark feels will lead to the W. P. I. A. L. crown next year.

Student Initiative Brings Co-Ed Volleyball



Intramural confusion

Excitement-packed contests popularize intramural phase of athletic program.



An extra-popular, extra-curricular sport.

A well-accepted addition to our intramural program is co-ed volleyball. The student-organized sport was judged a success by all participants. Taking their names from colleges, the teams partook in a round robin elimination.

The intramural basketball program was supervised by the athletic department and operated under the tournament system. A final intramural championship contest resulted in each grade level. Intramural sports presented the opportunity of spirited competition, team play, and enjoyment.

Students Laughed, Faculty Won

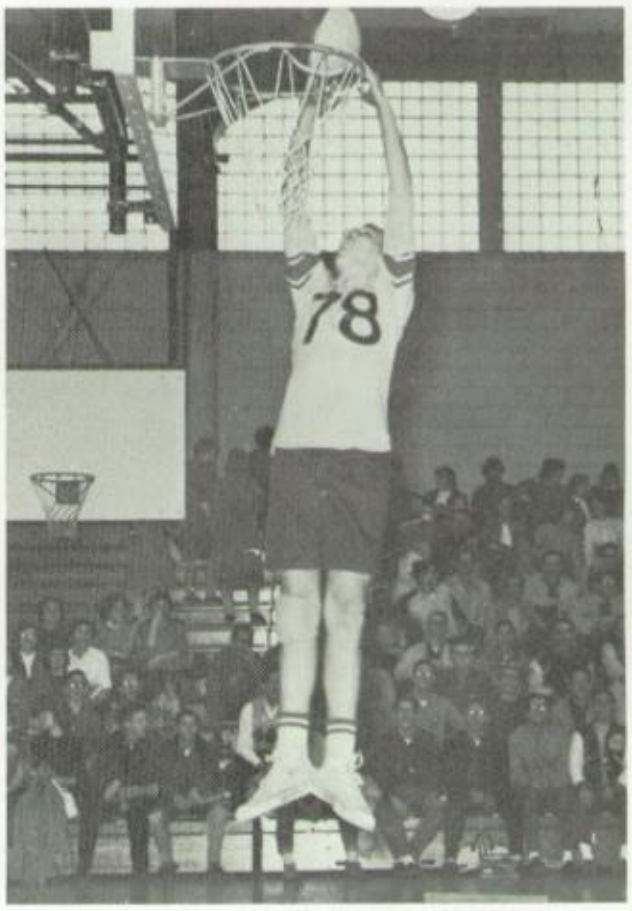
The long and the short of it.

Although the 1959-1960 sports season witnessed many championship games for Mt. Lebanon, the most challenging and exciting of all was the student-faculty basketball game. One boy from each senior homeroom battled the faculty squad in an unforgettable contest of twisted rules and unorthodox plays. This event was so well-received that another game was scheduled for 1961, when the faculty will attempt to repeat their victory.

Here is the versatile talent that sparked the faculty squad on to victory.



A long stretch gives students a two-pointer.

Managers Coordinate Athletic Program

The managers of Mt. Lebanon's eleven varsity sports have numerous responsibilities. Their duties stem from the handling and storing of equipment to maintaining statistical records.

Mr. W. C. Moore is aided by Bill Lane, Gerry Hood, and Kirk Borland in the duties of coordinating the sports and maintaining the financial records of the athletic department.

G.A.A. Projects A Kaleidoscope Of Fun

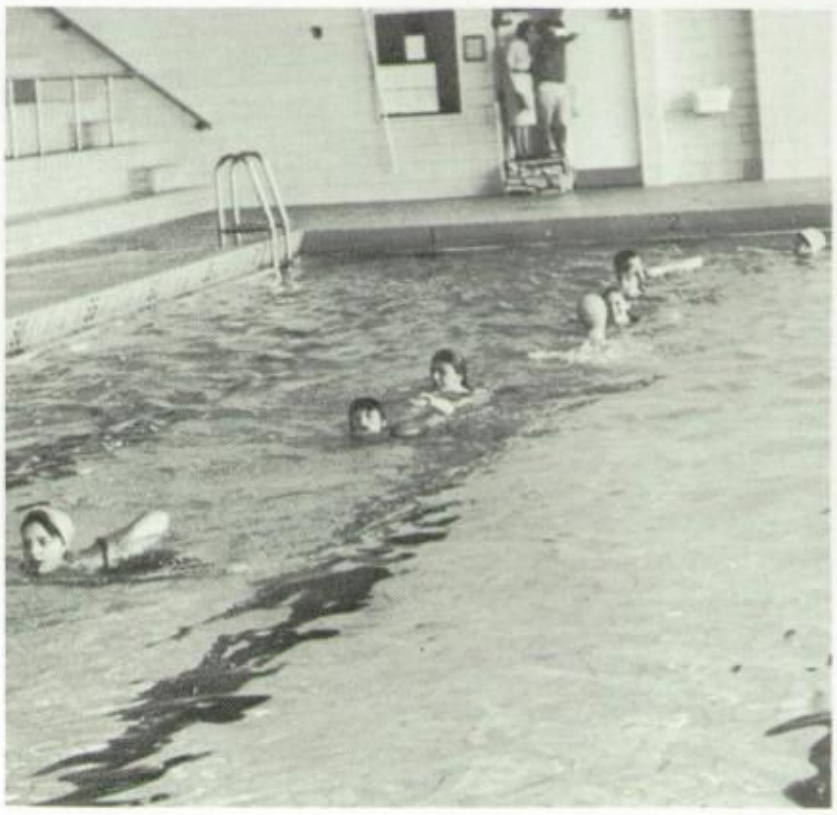
Under the skillfully-planned direction of Miss Shaver, Miss Faieta, and the Leaders Club, about seven hundred girls participated in G.A.A. Last fall, not to be outdone by the boys, G.A.A. instigated girls' touch football. To the hoots and hysterics of all onlookers, the teams fumbled the ball from one end of the field to the other. Later in the season, G.A.A. tournaments centered around more familiar sports. Volleyballs spiked over the net at a surprised opposing team, ping-pong serves spinning expertly down the table, successful hook shots during an evenly-matched basketball game, and smooth backhand tennis returns highlighted the G.A.A. calendar during the winter and spring months.

The social calendar also held a kaleidoscope of fun-filled events — the awards banquet, which recognizes those who have earned G.A.A. letters; the Spring Fantasy, for dancers as well as athletes; Play Day, which entertained girls from seventy other district schools; a Sports' Clinic for all of Allegheny County; and the March gym exhibition, in which every girl demonstrated some phase of our physical education program.

All in all, the Girls' Athletic Association provided a well rounded schedule of athletic and social activities that were available to all high school girls.

A bevy of beauty and charm created a lovely atmosphere for the Spring Fantasy.



Talented and poised, the girls in the Water Ballet displayed a panorama of synchronized routines.

The girls keep Play Day a lively one.

Summer's End Brings New Beginning

The annual bonfire symbolizes our hopes for a successful season.

September presented us with the challenge of beginning another school year and offered us a new start in each department of the school. In sports, the bonfire rally kicked off a feeling of pride in our outstanding athletic teams. During rousing sessions at the Rec, our school spirit rose, instigated by songs, cheers, and vigorous hopes. With a flurry of enthusiasm and spirit, we launched a new year.

Musical Groups Add Flavor

The musical organizations at Mt. Lebanon add color and enjoyment to our extra-curricular interests. The large enrollment of these groups testifies to the enthusiasm with which students receive them. Audiences, too, applaud the performances of the orchestra, presenting its annual spring festival; the band, providing a precise half-time exhibition; and the chorus, furnishing a special touch for our auditorium programs.

Formals Usher In The Flurry Of Fall

September brought the flurry of excitement and activity that characterizes the beginning of a school year. Dances, shows, and special events highlighted the transition from summer leisure to homework. The first attraction, the election of Miss Mt. Lebanon, sent local residents to vote for the candidate of their choice. Producing the annual senior play, Witness for the Prosecution, involved weeks of harrowing preparation on the parts of many upperclassmen.

Gold, russet, and green leaves formed a gay canopy over the dance floor and set the "Autumn Haze" theme for November's Junior-Senior Prom. Pastel lighting and brightly-hued evening dresses complemented the colorful atmosphere. Those who attended this first formal of the year spent a wonderful evening dancing beneath the autumnal decorations and relaxing with refreshments.

Thus the year was launched, and we settled into the groove of autumn activity.

Lending an air of courtesy and friendliness at the senior play were Deb Bateman, Sandy Kauper, Carol Emonds, and Bobbie Bentz.

Representing the high school in the Harvest Pageant were Ingrid Larson, Miffie Fox, Sandy Kauper, Didra Paulus, Mimi Gambs, Bonnie Keller, Diane Plasman, Sue Norseen, Deanne Kustes, Maribeth Englehart and Carla Mueller.

Snow Stimulates

Holiday Fun

The heavy snowfalls could snarl a line of traffic, but they were unable to dampen any spirits or winter activity. In fact, the forces of nature co-operated with those who had planned ski-weekends, tobogganing parties, or ice-skating.

After much impatient waiting and checking calendars, school dismissed for the end-of-the-year holidays. Numerous parties, open-houses, and dances marked the festive season. Highlighting the vacation was the annual Snowball, sponsored by the Women's Club for the senior class. Couples chatted and drank punch or danced under a ceiling of colorful stars. At midnight came the crowning of the queen and her court, selected from the senior girls present. The evening was a pleasant climax to the holiday season.

Pep Highlights

Our Activities

Once a year, a strange concoction of hill-billy havoc and hectic hilarity reign supreme at the Sadie Hawkins Dance. On this night, all the ladies dress like Sadies in their Sunday worst, latch on to a local yokel, and wait for the blessin' of Marryin' Sam. This year, Dave Scott penetrated Dogpatch with his feet-stompin' platters, and, as a highlight, some of the Skunk Hollow Boys, local singing groups, rendered some selections.

Their own brand of school spirit.

During the late months of winter, a new crop sprang up — enthusiasm. At pep rallies, we acclaimed the athletes who made possible our athletic triumphs: The swimming team had won the W.P.I.A.L. Meet and was advancing towards the state championship. In basketball, Lebo was participating in the race for W.P.I.A.L. leadership. At the games, we displayed our renewed spirit by our support and cheering. Blue devil banners rose above a flurry of streamers and confetti in the grandstands as spectators yelled the victory cry. How soon can you forget those enthusiastic pep rallies?

"We Are The Seniors. . . "

"And I thought yesterday was rough!"

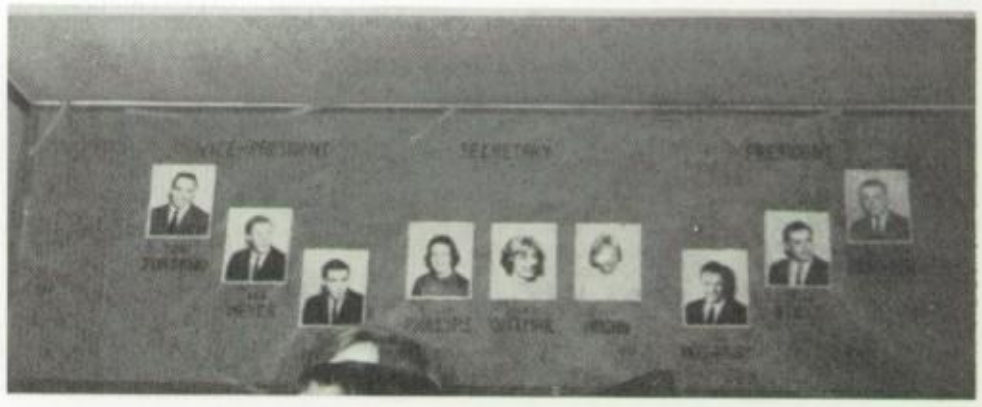
After four years of hard work and anticipation, we are about to take our place in the adult world. Graduation has come, in spite of those moments when we thought it would never arrive. The year's activities—Senior Recognition Game, Witness for the Prosecution, the Senior Tea, and, finally, all the joyful parties and celebrations of the last week—crowd into our thoughts and spill over into our memories. But, far from becoming a memory, our loyalty for Mt. Lebanon remains a daily feeling in our hearts, and, in the traditional exercises that each graduating class has followed, we symbolize our pride in the past and our hope in the future.



A triple trio of worthy candidates.

And only 106 more days until Senior Day.

Always willing to explain one more time.

"A class like ours will never die."

"No wonder I'm hungry. I had four tests today!"

Rush hour in the Attendance Office.

Hopeful seniors clutch college transcripts.

". . And We're Mighty Proud!"

The visions of Senior Day that we have held for so many years did not begin to be realized until preparation for that day started at the beginning of the second semester. At that time, each twelfth-grade homeroom selected students to work on each of the senior committees. Along with faculty sponsors, these students organized various phases of the activities of our last week. They selected and distributed material for vests, arranged practice sessions for the class song, and supervised the variety show. These groups were responsible for the success of Senior Day 1961.

Selecting the senior song and arranging times to practice it were the duties of the Song Committee, which consisted of Linda Brodmerkel, Claudia Miller, John Rodgers, Kathy Schwarz, Mary Ann Jones, Carolann Kearns, Jill Hagan, Linda Grove, Sally Prigg, Carolyn Eck, and Betsy Lindsey.

The Variety Show Committee, composed of Bill Massey, Miffie Fox, Pam Hyslop, John Crissman, Mary Redding, Ralph Alster, Ginger Jordan, Dave Wikoff, Sheila Lynott, Mollie Glennan, Pat Barnum, Julie Hering, Marilyn Reynolds, Carol Phinney, Chuck Garland, Jack Minnottee and Terry Schmidt, supervised the auditioning of acts for the senior talent show.

The Selection Committee chose the type of material for senior vests. Those on this committee were Barbara La-Rosa, Judy Ochodski, Diane White, Helen Reichl, Sally Sutherland, Sharon Ham, Sandy Kauper, Susie Swager, Marsha White, Linda Peck, Eshley Edgar, Jim Caldwell, Herb Sanders, Tony Lavely, Bill Wurzbach, Dave Smith, Hank Wurster, Don Jordano, Bernie Laquinta, Dan Cole and Malcolm Love.

Girls on Costume A Committee cut and distributed materials for senior vests. They were Jean Benson, Diane Gething, Carol Wimmer, Pat Robison, Sue Russell, Mary Ellen Skinner, Marlene Singer, Debbie Evans, Ingrid Larson, Judy Bender, Marcia Hickey, Karen Sorg, Shirley Barson, Trudi Miller, Gerry Butler, Peggy Bruso, Lynn Davis, Julia Grummer, Beverly Ritenour, and Leslie Kerber.

The duties of the Costume B Committee were taking orders and collecting money for senior vests. Members were Diane Koerner, Lynda Pfendler, Linda Easterling, Lynn Boester, Caddy Durkin, Leslie Wilmot, Susie Hoose, Barbara Fiedler, Bruce Thomson, Thurman Eckfeld, and Knut Johnsen.

ALMA MATER

'Neath cedars stately,
Midst hills so bold,
Stands our Mt. Lebanon,
Realm of Blue and Gold,
Radiant with splendor,
Valor, virtue, and truth,
Moulder of our destiny,
Guardian of our youth.
Ever our praises shall ring,
Alma Mater, for thee.

Charles Ruch, '32
